

Brand Name :	THALASSITIS (Appellation of Origin SANTORINI of Superior Quality)
Vintage :	2002
Region :	Santorini Island
Grape Variety :	Assyrtiko
Alcohol Level :	12,80 % vol.
Acidity Level :	6,90 g/lit.	pH :	3,00
Sugar :	1,41 g/lit.
Volume of Bottle :	750 ml

Description of wine, vineyards, winemaking etc. :

Like Botticelli's Venus, Santorini Island with its Assyrtiko grapes, rises from the sea and gives birth to THALASSITIS, a dry white wine of a remarkable character.

Assyrtiko is perhaps the only Mediterranean variety of grape to flourish under such difficult climatic conditions. From poor, porous soil formed by volcanic activity and composed largely of pumice, we harvest fully mature grapes with a relatively high acidity.

Our vineyard, located on the Southeastern slopes of Episkopi is composed entirely of 70-80 year old, ungrafted vines with a dramatically low yield.

THALASSITIS is a bone-dry wine with a delicate honeysuckle aroma and a crisp finish... a white wine of a strong personality.

THALASSITIS was first released in 1994 in a limited vintage, but the continuously great demand of the wine-loving public increased steadily the production of this unique wine to higher levels.